REVISTA JURÍDICA DERECHO
ISSN 2413 - 2810, Volumen 14, Nro. 23
Julio - Diciembre 2025

LEGAL MAGAZINE LAW

JOURNAL OF THE INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH, SEMINARS AND THESIS THE LAW DEPARTMENT, UMSA

ISSN 2413-2810 (PRINTED), VOLUME 14, N° 23 JULY - DECEMBER 2025

FACULTY OF LAW AND POLITICAL SCIENCE,HIGHER UNIVERSITY OF SAN ANDRES

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF RESEARCH ARTICLES

1. RECIPIENTS

The Law Journal of the Institute for Research, Seminars and Thesis, of the Law Department, Higher University of San Andres allows publishing to all professionals, professors and researchers as well as centres of Juridical Investigation and Postgraduate national and international programs, the prerequisite being that the articles are of their authorship and authentic, as well as unpublished in essential relation to the area of Law and Social Sciences.

2. PURPOSE

To promote and disseminate scientific intellectual production generated in academicand legal research, with the aim of contributing to the reflection on and analysis of thereality of different societies.

3. METHODOLOGY AND REVIEW PROCESS OF THE ARTICLES

Articles received by the Institute of Research, Seminars and Thesis for publication inthe Legal Review may previously be assessed by the following committees: at the editor's suggestion.

3.1. DRAFTING COMMITTEE

It verifies compliance with the technical requirements of the formal presentation and bac- kground according to international standards. It has a period of no longer than 10 working days to issue a report which will indicate acceptance, acceptance with notes or rejection.

- The issuance of an acceptance report is followed by a submission of the article to the Scientific Committee.
- If the article is accepted with notes, it will be sent back to the author to correct the indicated, in a period not exceeding five calendar days.
- If the article is rejected, it will be returned to the author with a note of attention.

3.2. SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Under the editor's direction evaluates the technical quality and scientific relevance of the article, according to the mission, vision and requirements of international indexing systems for accredited journals. They will issue a report with acceptance, acceptance with notes or rejection within no more than 15 working days.

- The issuance of an acceptance report is followed by a submission of the article to the International Committee.
- If the article is accepted with notes it will be sent back to the author to correct the indicated, in a period not exceeding five calendar days
- If the article is rejected, it will be returned to the author with a note of attention.

3.3. INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE

Experts on relevant subjects will evaluate whether the articles have previously been unpublished and whether they meet the originality, rigor and academic quality requirements, in addition to observing the international indexing systems for accredited journals. They will issue a report with acceptance, acceptance with notes or rejection within no more than 20 working days.

- The issuance of anacceptance report is followed by a submission of the article to the Editorial Committee.
- If the article is accepted with notes it will be sent back to the author to correct the indicated, in a period not exceeding five calendar days.
- f the article is rejected, it will be returned to the author with a note of attention.

3.4. DITORIAL COMMITTEE

Has the decision and final attribution to authorize the publication of conflicting or ambiguous articles together with the editor of the journal. Its attributions are:

- The publication of the article is approved.
- The publication of the article is approved, with notes to be corrected.
- The publication of the article is rejected. For this purpose, the committee has a period not exceeding 20 working days.
- If the article is approved with notes to be corrected, the author shall correct the remarks in a period not exceeding ten working days.
- If the article is rejected, the committee will issue a properly grounded report to the Director of the Institute for Research and Seminars, who will inform the author in writing of the final decision.
- Once the decision on and specification of the articles Tobe published has been made, the author will receive written notice of this decision. The names of theauthors and reviewers will be reserved at all times until the publication of themagazine, in order to avoid possible conflicts of interest.

REVISTA JURÍDICA DERECHO
ISSN 2413 - 2810, Volumen 14, Nro. 23
Julio - Diciembre 2025

4. CHARACTERISTICS OF THE ARTICLES

4.1. STRUCTURE

Articles must adhere to the specifications described in this document:

- Title of the article
- Name of author or authors, ORCID code, and the last academic degree obtained
- Abstract (maximum 10 lines)
- Keywords (maximum 5 words)
- Introduction (maximum 1 page)
- Methodology and techniques
- Results
- Discussion
- Conclusions/ recommendations
- Bibliographic references. (Apply rules of APA style 7th Edition)
- Footnotes. (when an author or a document isquoted)

4.2. FORMAT

- Line spacing: 1,15
- Font: Arial
- Font size: 12
- Paper size: letter (21 x 28 cm)
- Margins Top, Bottom, Left, Right: 2,5
- Justified
- Minimum: 15 pages and Maximum 25 pages
- Use only one side of the page
- Each article in the extent possible should have a translation into English or another language of the abstract and keywords.

4.3. SUBMISSION OF THE ARTICLE

- The article must be submitted in printed and in digital or electronic format.
- In the case of authors within the country and abroad who are unable to deliver a printed version, they may do so via electronic-mail to the following address: iist.revistaderecho@gmail.com

4.4. IN RELATION TO (THE) AUTHOR (S)

A brief biography of the author, no more than 50 words including their last academic degree obtained, current positions, and major publications should be included, in addition the personal e-mail, address, phone and fax should be contained.

4.5. BIBLIOGRAPHIC REFERENCES

Quotations must comply with the rules of the American Psychological Association (APA) "Publication Manual" 7th Edition. They should be placed at end of the article in lowercase, except the first letter, in alphabetical order.

5. CONFLICT OF INTERESTS

The law journal of the Institute for Research, Seminars, of the Law Department Higher University of San Andres, apply internal security mechanisms to avoid conflict of interests that affect the editorial process of our magazine.

6. FREQUENCY

The Law Journal is a biannual publication.

7. COPYRIGHT

The approval of an article for publication means the free transfer of copyright for the benefit of the Law Journal of the Institute for Research and Seminars in relation to editing by any media and means.

8. DUPLICATED PUBLICATION

The articles presented in the Legal Law Review must be unpublished, unique and not have been published previously. Knowing intentional submission or resubmission of the article for duplicate publication is considered a breach of editorial ethics.

9. GRATUITY

The Law Journal does not generate profit, distribution and subscription is free for academic and research purposes. Partial or total reproduction, indicating the author and source, is hereby authorized.

10. SCIENTIFIC FRAUD

The article should prevent scientific fraud, related to the submission of false data or conclusions that were not generated in the investigation.